Julia Oschewsky & Band - Amsterdam

„A highly motivated singer with interests beyond the world of jazz and a quest for personal vision in music and the performing arts“, that’s how she was once described by Theo Bleckmann (New York based vocal artist) with whom she was working during her semester abroad at the Manhattan School of Music.

Born in Mainz/Germany, grown up in Bingen next to the Rhine river, Julia declared Amsterdam her home base in 2003 and ever since. She has become well-known there in the local environment while succeeding to stay deep-seated in the German music scene as well.

Accompanied and carried by her fantastic band Julia sings lyrical, intimate and honest songs. Silent, but also powerful tones, full-blooded in sound, contagious melodies breathing the spirit of a singer-songwriter that has apparently always slumbered inside of her.

Inspired by songwriters such as Glen Hansard, Lisa Hannigan and Feist Julia tells stories of longing and encounters, stories about the continuous change in life, the past and the familiar.
